

FESE De la Vega Prize 2022

Call for Papers

---

The Federation of European Securities Exchanges (FESE) will award the FESE De la Vega Prize 2022 to a young scholar for an outstanding research paper on financial markets.

Papers about current developments in European financial markets which promote public markets are particularly welcome. The winning paper and author(s) will be awarded the Prize at the FESE Convention 2022. The amount awarded will be EUR 5,000.

Papers should be submitted by 31st March 2022 to the FESE Secretariat at secretariat@fese.eu. They should be accompanied by an abstract, the CV(s) of the author(s), and confirmation that the conditions outlined in the Terms of Reference (e.g. authors must be aged 40 or under and papers must not be published in a peer-reviewed journal) are fulfilled.

The Prize jury comprises:

- Söhnke M. Bartram, Professor of Finance, University of Warwick and CEPR
- Sarah Draus, Ph.D., Autoriteit Financiële Markten
- Alain Durré, Ph.D., Executive Director and Economiste en chef, Goldman Sachs Paris
- Marlene D. Haas, Ph.D., Associate, Cornerstone Research
- Jonas Heese, Marvin Bower Associate Professor of Business Administration at Harvard Business School
- Thomas Johann, Assistant Professor, University of Mannheim
- Arman Khachaturyan, Ph.D., Director General, Financial Policy: Economic and Financial Affairs, Eurasian Economic Commission
- Ángel Pardo Tornero, Professor, Department of Financial Economics, University of Valencia
- Talis Putnins, Professor, Finance Discipline Group, University of Technology Sydney
- Roger Silvers, Assistant Professor, School of Accounting, David Eccles School of Business, The University of Utah
- Apostolos Thomadakis, Ph.D., Researcher, CEPS
- Christian Westheide, Assistant Professor of Finance, University of Vienna

About FESE

---

The Federation of European Securities Exchanges (FESE) represents 36 exchanges in equities, bonds, derivatives and commodities through 18 Full Members from 30 countries, as well as 1 Affiliate Member and 1 Observer Member.

At the end of November 2021, FESE members had 9,236 companies listed on their markets, of which 16% are foreign companies contributing towards European integration and providing broad and liquid access to Europe's capital markets. Many of our members also organise specialised markets that allow small and medium sized companies across Europe to access capital markets; 1,421 companies were listed in these specialised markets/segments in equity, increasing choice for investors and issuers. Through their RM and MTF operations, FESE members are keen to support the European Commission's objective of creating a Capital Markets Union.

Through its members' activities, FESE enjoys links with the regulatory community and industry from around the world. It works closely with several trade associations in Brussels, and collaborates with various pan-European and global organisations, including the World Federation of Exchanges (WFE). In addition, it is a founding member of the multi-sectoral industry group European Parliamentary Financial Services Forum (EPFSF).

FESE's main interlocutors at the European level are the European Commission, Parliament, and Council, as well as the European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA). At the international level, FESE engages in dialogue with the International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO).

In all of its activities, FESE is guided by the following overarching objectives:

- Promoting public recognition of exchanges and their contribution to the European and global economy;
- Fostering the global competitiveness of European public markets;
- Providing a forum for open and forward-looking debate on capital markets.

As a trade association, FESE adheres to a strict set of principles and believes in full disclosure across its activities. As such, FESE is registered in the European Union Transparency Register: 71488206456-23.

---

About Josseph De la Vega

---

Josseph De la Vega was born around 1650 into a family of Sephardi Jews. After several dramatic works and novels, in 1688 De la Vega published Confusión de Confusiones, a book of dialogues concerned with the operations of the Amsterdam Stock Exchange. De la Vega gives three motives for writing the dialogues: simple pleasure; to increase understanding among those who were not in the financial business of what he regarded as "the most honest and most useful [business] of all that existed at the time"; and, on the other hand, to caution about the "tricks" engaged in by contemporary financial businesspeople.<sup>1</sup> FESE believes there still to be much value and relevance today in many of De la Vega's observations about the behaviour of investors in markets. This is why since 2000 FESE has chosen to award an eponymous Prize to young scholars delivering outstanding research in the same field. The winners from previous editions can be found here.

---

<sup>1</sup> Kellenbenz, H. (1957). Introduction. In : De la Vega, J. Confusión de Confusiones. Cambridge, MA, USA: Harvard University, xi.